Cyberlandia
– a place of wonder and excitement !

In Cyberlandia town, where screens did glow,
Lived children, curious, ready to go.
In the digital landscape, they'd play and explore,
But a sly Cyber Gobbler caused trouble galore.

This mischievous creature, with tricks up his sleeve,
Sneaked into devices, made children believe
In falsehoods and pranks, causing quite a fuss,
Spreading confusion with each devious cuss.

Then stepped forth Professor Pixel, wise and tech-savvy,
To teach E-safety and rescue each savvy.
In a virtual classroom, he gathered the crew,
To impart lessons they'd need as they flew.

"Create strong passwords," the professor declared,
"Recognize fake websites, be thoroughly prepared .
Guard personal info, with caution proceed,
For the digital world has its own danger, indeed."

The children, wide-eyed, absorbed every rhyme,
As Pixel transported them through E-safety time.
In a virtual realm, avatars abound,
Good habits and dangers, both could be found.

Through phishing attempts and traps so sly,
The children learned to discern truth from a lie.
The Cyber Gobbler, frustrated and dismayed,
Watched as his tricks no longer swayed.

Back in the real world, the kids were aware,
Of E-safety skills, with knowledge to spare.
They shared their wisdom, a protective decree,
And Cyberlandia became safe as can be.

Professor Pixel, the mentor so wise,
Continued to guide with a watchful eye.
In this digital haven, where dangers might creep,
The children of Cyberlandia sailed the E-safety deep.

A cautionary tale, a rhyming delight,
Of screens and lessons in the virtual night.
So they thrived in their town, both young and old,
In a digital adventure, with E-safety untold.
